Chapter 4

What are the 8 theories of product liability and how do they differ?

Before the US courts recognized a manufacturer's liability for defective products, what was the recourse of consumers who were injured and why was this advantageous/disadvantageous to them?

What role does advertising play in product liability cases?

What specific types of advertising materials were involved in the cases in Chapter 4?

For what types of injuries may an injured party be compensated in a products liability lawsuit?

What is meant by the phrase, res ipse loquitor, and to which theory of liability does it apply?

What is meant by the term punitive damages and when are they awarded?

Chapter 5

What is meant by the phrase, penumbral rights?

What are the earliest legal references to privacy rights?

What was the earliest US case in which privacy rights were overtly recognized?

What is the right to privacy intended to protect?

What are the specific types of claims are actionable as violations of a person's right to privacy?

Under what circumstances do his/her privacy rights survive after the death of an individual?

What form(s) of consent will be upheld by courts?

In what ways may consent be limited?

Under what circumstances may and may not a person disaffirm consent given by his/her parents when he/she was a minor?

What forms of depiction are encompassed within the meaning of identity for the purpose of determining whether a publicity right has been violated?