Draw a tree diagram for each of the following sentences. You will need to use what you have learned about simple sentences, sentences with complement clauses, and various types of movement. If movement has occurred, draw arrows from the trace to the moved element, and list the transformations.

1. Sally lives right in the middle of Chicago.

2. The unicorn might be eating the lilies.

3. The rabbit was hiding under the bridge.

4. The castle fell into the sea.

5. The media have reported that the candidate won the election.

6. Did Bill write that check?

7. Does William think that Harry can succeed in business?

8. The jury believed that the prisoner was guilty.

9. Can the clown amuse that boy?

10. What does Mary want?

11. Who did Carol talk to?

12. Which color has Jamie chosen?