Assignment One

Use the following format to answer the questions:
Considering peoples’ attitude about abortion, 55.6% of males agreed with abortion rights as compared to 44.4% of women. The bar graph analysis showed that there was no relationship between gender and abortion rights. (If the relation was significant you would say something like: The bar graph analysis shows that men oppose abortion rights more than women.)

1. What is the percentage of people who are depressed and believe in the afterlife, and the percentage of people who are depressed and do not believe in the afterlife? (Depress goes on the row, postlife column)

Examine a bar graph and briefly state the relationship between the two relationships? Does the relationship seem to be significant? If so what does it mean?

2. What is the percentage of people who visited an art gallery and either gave or did not give to a group advocating social change? (Visitart goes on row; givehtony on column)

Examine a bar graph and briefly state the relationship between the two relationships? Does the relationship seem to be significant? If so what does it mean?

3. What is the percentage of people who smoked crack cocaine and have or do not have children? (Evcrack on row, children on column)

Examine a bar graph and briefly state the relationship between the two relationships? Does the relationship seem to be significant? If so what does it mean?

4. What is the percentage of people who contributed time to the needy and visited or did not visit an art gallery? (Hlpneedy on row)

Examine a bar graph and briefly state the relationship between the two relationships? Does the relationship seem to be significant? If so what does it mean?

5. What is the percentage of women who believe in the afterlife and did not believe in an afterlife? (Sex on row)

Examine a bar graph and briefly state the relationship between the two relationships? Does the relationship seem to be significant? If so what does it mean?

6. What is the percentage of women who visited an art gallery as opposed to men? (Visitart on row)

Examine a bar graph and briefly state the relationship between the two relationships? Does the relationship seem to be significant? If so what does it mean?