HEAD COACH RESPONSIBILITIES REGARDING COMPLIANCE

Effective October 30, 2012 Bylaw 11.1.2.1 Responsibility of Head Coach states that an institution’s head coach is presumed to be responsible for the actions of all assistant coaches and administrators who report, directly or indirectly, to the head coach. A head coach shall promote an atmosphere of compliance within his or her program and shall monitor the activities of all assistant coaches and administrators involved with the program who report, directly or indirectly, to the coach.

Under the new enforcement structure a head coach will be presumed responsible for the most serious of violations (e.g., academic fraud, recruiting inducements) occurring within his or her program unless the coach can show that he or she promoted an atmosphere of compliance and monitored his or her staff. After August 1, 2013, if the NCAA Committee on Infractions finds that a head coach violated Bylaw 11.1.2.1, he or she may be suspended for up to an entire season. The number of contests that a head coach would be suspended from will depend on the severity of the violation(s) committed by his or her staff or the coach himself/herself.

In basketball and football, beginning August 1, 2013, head coaches may be suspended for specific violations committed by assistant coaches. The assistant coach or staff member who commits the violation also would face suspension. Some of the violations warranting suspension include in-person, off-campus contacts during a dead period, intentional or significant game-day simulations and/or impermissible recruiting aids, providing team gear or other inducements to prospects, engaging nonscholastic third parties in the recruiting process, collective recruiting violations and/or other intentional recruiting violations and providing a written offer of athletics aid prior to August 1 of the prospect’s senior year. The same penalties are being considered for other sports as well.
