This is a poor example of the “Fill the Frame” technique because both the head and the feet were cut off.

This photo correctly uses the “Light Direction” technique and I focused on utilizing contrast to capture the light effects.
I altered the brightness and contrast of these two photos to enhance the colors.