Volume IX, Issue I – Winter 2005

Payment in Pediatric Research
By Lainie Friedman Ross

On Gnats, Camels, and Payment to Research Subjects: A Comment
By Robert A. Burt

In Support of Some Risk, Some Payment, and Some Parental Responsibility
By Lainie Friedman Ross

Response to Dr. Ross
By Robert A. Burt

Childhood Obesity: A Public Health Problem Requiring a Policy Solution
By Lisa Smith & Bryan A. Liang

Negligence in the Creation of Health Babies: Negligent Infliction of Emotional Distress in Cases of Alternative Reproductive Technology Malpractice Without Physical Injury
By Ingrid H. Heide

Judicial Assessment or Judicial Notice? An Evaluation of the Admissibility Standards for DNA Evidence and Proposed Solutions to Repress the Current Efforts to Expand Forensic DNA Capabilities
By Garrett E. Land

Learning From Each Other: Combining Strategies to End the Organ Shortage
By Bernard T. Kwitowski

Medical Malpractice Crisis Factional or Fictional?: An Overview of the GAO Report as Interpreted by the Proponents and Opponents of Tort Reform
By Jordyn K. McAfee

Rx for Michigan: Why Foreign Drug Reimportation is Only a Temporary Fix in the Prescription Drug Pricing Formula for Michigan
By Andrew J. LaFave