The following represent extra credit opportunities for you. To earn up to 20 points of extra credit, you must (a) attend a talk, (b) take notes, and (c) write up a one-page argumentative response paper that contains a reconstructed argument from the talk and an argumentative response of your own. You can submit two of these, and they are due by the last day of class.

1. Paul Thompson, Professor, Philosophy, MSU: “The agricultural ethics of biofuels.” Tuesday, November 20, 11:50-12:50, 75 Ag Hall.

2. Todd Presner, Professor, Digital Humanities, UCLA: “The Seven Habits of Highly Effective Digital Humanists.” Monday, November 26, 4:00-6:00, B-310 Wells Hall.

3. Antonio Calcagno, Professor, Philosophy, King’s University College of the University of Western Ontario: “Power, Community, and the Impolitical.” Friday, November 30, 3:00-5:00, 134 South Kedzie Hall.