In groups, take a look at the following sentences and work your way toward a systematic understanding of their relationship. Add to this list, if you have additional examples.

1. Oranges are citrus fruits.
2. The orange is a citrus fruit.
3. An orange is a citrus fruit.
4. An orange is very tasty.
5. That orange is a citrus fruit.
6. Oranges are on the bottom shelf.
7. The average orange is about yea big.