Greek 102 is a continuation of Greek 101. We will begin where Greek 101 left off with the reading in Chapter XXXVII of Crosby & Schaeffer, which we will do together on the first day of class. As in Greek 101, we will proceed through the remainder of Crosby & Schaeffer’s text at the rate of one chapter per week, with the exception of the last three meetings when we will do two summary chapters per day. There will be four exams, several quizzes, and a final. Students are expected to attend each class session and to prepare the chapter that is assigned for that day. There are no excused absences; however, if you miss an exam due to illness, band trip, campus visit, job interview, etc., a make-up can be arranged, provided you submit suitable documentation. There will be no make-up quizzes. Students who have a 4.0 at the end of the semester are excused from the final.
